Needle Pointers

Here is a suggestion for hanging up half aprons. Usually they have to have the ties tied every time they are hung up—and the result is inconvenience and a wrinkled bow the next time you tie the apron strings. Try sewing a loop onto the inside of the back at each side where the ties join the apron (underneath of course). Make it of white tape or a scrap of material matching the apron.

If you make your own dresses or have them made, keep a record of your basic measurements on a card in your sewing basket. Many minutes spent in measuring will thus be saved. These are the basic measurements dressmakers require: neck; bust; waist; front waist length (top center of shoulder to waist over fullest part of bust); back waist length (waist to base of neck); back width (armhole to armhole across shoulder blades); hip (widest part); front skirt length; back skirt length. Frequently also you will need to know: shoulder length (neck to top of arm); sleeve length (wrist to shoulder, arm slightly bent); underarm sleeve length (armpit to wrist, arm straight); armhole (top of arm bone around back to an inch below armpit); upper arm (around fullest part); and wrist.

In textile painting or stenciling, if some paint should happen to get in the wrong place, quickly douse the spot with cold water and rub it between the fingers, using Lava soap or a soap powder. Then rinse with cold water.

"Bamboo" Place Mat

For the place mat, you will need about 400 yards each of gold, green and turquoise Lily FROST-TONE Crochet Cotton. It is made with three strands of thread. The bamboo and leaf spray uses Lily DOUBLE QUICK Mercerized Crochet Cotton in black (about 75 yards is sufficient for one mat). You will also need sizes 1 and 3 steel crochet hooks. For best results, crochet tightly. The finished mat measures about 12 by 18 inches.

Abbreviations: Ch (chain); sk (skip); lp (loop); st (stitch); sl st (slip stitch); sp (space); sc (single crochet); dc (double crochet); hdc (half double crochet)—thread over once, pull lp through, thread over and pull through all 3 lps at once; tr (treble)—thread over twice, work off 2 lps at a time.

Place Mat—Using one strand of each color of FROST-TONE and number 1 crochet hook, make a 15-inch chain.

Row 1: Dc in 4th ch from hook, * sk 1 ch, dc in next ch, dc back in skipped ch (cross stitch made), dc in next ch; repeat from * for 11½ inches. Cut and rip excess chain.

Row 2: Ch 3, turn, dc in first dc, * sk first dc of next cross st, dc in next dc, dc back in skipped dc, dc in next dc between cross sts; repeat from * across through end dc. Do not work in end ch 3. Be careful to make cross sts in cross sts of previous row.

Repeat row 2 for 17½ inches.

Edge: Continuing across long side, 2 sc in corner, sc between first 2 rows, * 3 sc in next ch 3 sp, (sc between rows) twice; repeat from * across; 3 sc in corner, (sk 1 st, 3 sc in next st, sk 1 st, sc in next 2 sts) repeated across end;  3 sc in corner, 3 sc in first ch 3 sp, (sc between rows) twice; repeat from * to ; join and fasten off.

Left Bamboo Spray—(Main Stem) With black DOUBLE QUICK thread and number 3 hook, make a 7-inch ch, sk 1 ch, * hdc in each of next 10 ch, holding back the last lp of each tr on hook, make tr in each of next 2 ch, thread over and draw through all 3 lps on hook at same time for a cluster; repeat from * to end of ch; fasten off. Turn wrong-side-up and sew on mat ¾ inches to right from bottom left corner, across corner to 5½ inches above corner.

Leaf Spray—* Ch 20, sl st in second ch from hook, ch 2, sk 2 ch, hdc in next ch, (ch 2, sk 2 ch, dc in next ch) 3 times, ch 2, sk 2 ch, hdc in next ch, ch 2, sk 2 ch, sl st in end ch, repeat from * 3 times (4 leaves); ch 20, sk 1 ch, sl st in each remaining ch, sk last 3 leaves, sl st in base of next leaf; fasten off. Sew end of stem to bottom of main stem on right side and sew leaves in place as shown in illustration. Make 2 leaves and sew midway up main stem on left side. Make 4 leaves and a ch 30 stem (as for first leaf spray). Sew stem 1 inch above last leaves, on right side of main stem, and sew leaves as in illustration.

Right Bamboo Spray—(Main Stem) Make a 12½ inch ch (to reach across mat) and work as for first main stem. Turn wrong-side-up and sew across right end of mat ¾ inches from bottom corner to 4¾ inches from top corner. Make 4 leaves and sew midway of main stem on right side. Make 3 leaves and a ch 30 stem. Sew stem midway of main stem on left side. Make 4 leaves and a ch 30 stem. Sew stem at same place and sew leaves as shown in illustration.

Stretch and pin mat right-side-down in true shape. Steam and press dry through a cloth.

"WISHING WELL" PLANTER & THERMOMETER With Ringing WEATHER BELL

All for ONLY 50¢

Bargain—to get new customers! The chemically treated Bell actually changes color whenever certain atmospheric conditions vary; that is, it turns pink at high humidity, blue at low, lavender at intermediate. The Wishing Well is so decorative as a charming hanging planter to show off your favorite ivy, philodendron, greenery, to perfection. Stand it on mantel, shelf, or use as table centerpiece. Ideal for candy, cigarettes—even as a Wishing Well Bank for guests to toss in their coins when making a wish.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

Made of colorful hand-decorated imported ceramic with gleaming gold trim. The adorable Bell rings out a tinkling welcome when summoning guests to dinner. Thermometer tells temperature at a glance. Not more than two Wishing Wells to each customer at this low price. Add only 15¢ to each Wishing Well ordered for postage and handling. No C.O.D.'s please.

MAKE BIG MONEY IN YOUR SPARE TIME SHOWING NEW NATION-WIDE CRAZE

This simple, eye-catching 10 second demonstration is coining hundreds of dollars every day for Flexiclog demonstrators all over America. Exclusive patents eliminate competition. No experience required. The patented flexing hinge; the high and low heel styles; the interchangeable colored plastic straps; non-slip soles; are all exclusive features that make Flexiclogs sell on sight. Flexiclogs are not sold in any store. The only way friends and neighbors can get them is through people who take advantage of the following offer.

FLEXICLOGS FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Three months of spare-time sales brought Mrs. Edward Lee, Chicago, Illinois, several hundred dollars in Flexiclogs sales.

Miss Dorothy G. Ayres of Philadelphia averaged over $200 a month in easy part-time sales showing new Flexiclogs.

OUR "GIVE AWAY" DEMONSTRATION OFFER TO HELP YOU CASH IN

We want you to cash in on this growing style craze. To help you get started we're giving away our profit on one pair of demonstration Flexiclogs in your own style and size. A $6.95 pair of Flexiclogs is yours at a demonstrator's cost price of only $3.95. You save $3.00. We're happy to make this offer because we know that the sooner you wear Flexiclogs, the sooner your friends and neighbors will want some too and the sooner you'll start making money by taking orders for Flexiclogs. But that isn't all we're going to send you. FREE AND WITHOUT OBLIGATION you'll receive a complete kit of sales information, simple instructions for taking orders and a full color catalog—everything you'll need to go right out and start coining money. Fill out the coupon below and give us the facts on the style, size and strap color of your Flexiclogs. They will come to you on the same Iron Clad Guarantee you can give your customers—you must be delighted or return (unworn, of course) in 5 days for a full refund.

New Look for Old Quilts

"Columbine"—a colorful old style quilt that makes even the most modern bedroom blossom with beauty. Yes, this heirloom quilt, dating back to 1869, shows that quilts go with any furnishings in the decorative mix-or-match vogue.

But always remember, the proof of quality is in the quilt filling. That's why you should use Mountain Mist—handles like cloth... spreads evenly without bunching or stretching thin... fills out and sets off pattern... super-soft "Glazene" surfaces assure needle-easy, neat quilting. If your local store doesn't have Mountain Mist, write us.

● For pattern of appliquéd "Columbine" above and Catalog picturing 35 lovely quilts, send 20c in coin. For Catalog only, send 3c stamp to: Stearns & Foster, Dept. 62, Cincinnati 15, Ohio.

Adjustable, Life-Size Dress Form Made to Fit Your Figure

Formerly $5.98

NOW ONLY

$3.98

Why I Am Able to Offer You My Ann Baldwin Dress Form at This Low, Low Price

Sewing without a dress form is like trying to drive a car with your eyes shut. But old-fashioned dress dummies have many drawbacks. They were too bulky—many were not adjustable—all required stooping and bending. Now, thanks to this remarkable new material, I have been able to create a lightweight, adjustable dress form that does everything a $30 form does and more. Thanks to the overwhelming demand, I've been able to use new mass-production methods that have brought my costs way down. I am passing these savings on to you. My Ann Baldwin Dress Form—made to your own exact measurements—is yours, not for the original $5.98, but the new low price of only $3.98 on this amazing money-back guarantee. Try my Dress Form in your own home for 30 days. If it doesn't slash your sewing time in half—if it doesn't give you professional-looking clothes the very first time you pick up a needle—if it doesn't pay for itself the very first time you use it, return it for your full money back. NOW ONLY $3.98.

At last! Gain or lose up to 15 pounds and keep your clothes fitting perfectly with new lightweight dress form

After trying hundreds of different models, Ann Baldwin, one of Hollywood's top designers tested a remarkable, lightweight material which weighs but a few ounces, yet which is break resistant, chip resistant, crack resistant. From this amazing material, Ann Baldwin created a dress form completely different from any other ever made. A full, life-size dress form that is so flexible—you can actually gain or lose as much as 15 pounds—yet adjust it in seconds to fit your exact measurements. A dress form so light and handy you can fit your dress, pin it, baste it—and do it all without once getting up from your chair. A dress form that shows you exactly what your blouse, skirt or dress will look like before you even begin to sew—a dress form that practically guarantees a perfect fit every time...yet costs you less than 1/7th the price of bulky old-fashioned dress dummies.

How the Ann Baldwin dress form takes the guesswork out of sewing and stops you from making mistakes

Simply fit your garment on the dress form and scientifically placed sewing guides instantly show you whether it is perfectly centered or not—giving you a professionally-tailored garment at the very first fitting. Pin your patterns right on your Dress Form and see at a glance what your dress will look like ON YOU when finished. Never again will you have to waste 3 or 4 hours fitting on your dress. Now alter, design and remodel all your own clothes on a dress form that is made to fit your figure to a "T". Don't delay! Mail in for your Ann Baldwin Dress Form Today!

FIVE EXCLUSIVE FEATURES TO MAKE HOME SEWING EASIER MORE PROFESSIONAL-LOOKING!

Only dress form you can use in sections—Do all your pinning, altering, hemming while sitting down!

Weights only 2 lbs.

Folds away out of sight when not in use.

When your dress is finished take your Ann Baldwin Dress Form apart in seconds—fold it up—and hide it away.

Reduce or gain and keep your clothes fitting perfectly.

Adjusts to your own personal measurements.

hook under second lp from finger tip and pick up lp nearest finger tip, pull through st (holding lp on finger) and work off 2 lps at a time as for regular dc). When lp dc is used the work does not have to be turned for each row. Sl st in top of turning ch, ch 3.

Repeat row 2 four times.

Row 7: Dc in each st across row to form beading, sl st in top of turning ch. Do not break yarn.

Instep: With smooth side toward you, fasten another strand of yarn to 12th dc of beading row.

Row 1: Starting in same st where yarn is fastened work 9 lp sts across, ch 2, turn.

Row 2: Make 1 hdc in each of 9 sts in previous row, ch 1, turn.

Repeat rows 1 and 2 until there are 4 lp rows and 3 hdc rows. Fasten off.

Foot: Picking up yarn at back of work ch 3, make 1 lp dc in each st around leg and instep and 1 lp dc in each row on sides of instep. Repeat this row 3 times. Fasten off.

Sole: Ch 16.

Row 1: 2 sc in second st from hook, 1 sc in 13 sts of ch, 3 sc in end st, 1 sc on other side of each of the 13 ch sts, sl st in turning ch, ch 2.

Row 2: Hdc at base of ch, 2 hdc in each of next 3 sc, 1 hdc in each of next 11 sc, 2 hdc in each of next 5 sc around end, 1 hdc in each of next 11 sc, 2 dc in next sc, sl st in top of ch 2, ch 3.

Row 3: Dc at base of ch 3, 2 dc in each of next 5 hdc, 1 dc in each of next 15 hdc, 2 dc in each of next 6 hdc, 1 dc in each of next 15 hdc, sl st in top of ch 3. Fasten off, leaving enough yarn to sew sole to foot. Start at center front and weave about 18 inches of ribbon through beading row. Make a second bootie in same manner as for first one.

Percale Yard Cloth

Here is a beautiful and most unusual piece of modern crochet. The basic scarf measures about 16 by 36 inches, however it can easily be made any desired length. The leaf and flower motifs are sewn on in an all-over pattern. The sample was made of number 20 mercerized crochet thread in white. You will need one ball of brown tatting thread for the flower centers, one ball each of yellow and green number 30 mercerized crochet thread for the flower petals and leaves; use a size 12 or 13 crochet hook. This could easily become a tablecloth, if desired.

Abbreviations: Ch (chain); sk (skip); tr (treble)—thread over twice, work off 2 lps at a time; lp (loop); sc (single crochet); hdc (half double crochet)—thread over, insert hook in st, pull lp through (3 lps on hook), thread over and pull through all lps at once; sl st (slip stitch); dc (double crochet); dtr (double treble)—thread over 3 times, work off 2 lps at a time.

Row 1: Ch 272, turn, tr in 4th ch from hook, tr in each ch of foundation

ch. Counting the ch 4 at beginning, there will be 269 trs in all.

Row 2: Ch 4 (counts as 1 tr), sk the first tr of previous row, tr in each of the next 3 trs (this forms the border), (ch 1, sk 1 tr, tr in next tr) 130 times, ch 1, sk 1 tr, tr in each of next 4 trs (makes outer border).

Row 3: Ch 4, turn, sk the first tr, tr in each of next 3 trs, ch 2, sk ch 1 and tr of previous row, tr over the next ch 1 lp, (ch 1 and tr over the next ch 1 lp) 128 more times, ch 2, sk the last tr and ch 1 of previous row, tr in each of next 4 trs.

Row 7: Repeat row 3. Seven rows of mesh are completed.

Row 8: This row establishes the location for attaching the flower motif. Ch 4, turn, sk the first tr, tr in each of next 3 trs, (ch 1 and tr over the next ch 1 lp) 11 times, tr in next tr, tr over next ch 1 lp—(this makes a 3 tr solid group), (ch 1 and tr over next ch 1 lp) 35 times, tr in next tr, tr over next ch 1 lp—(this makes the second solid group), (ch 1 and tr over next ch 1 lp) 35 times, tr in next tr, tr over next ch 1 lp—(third solid group), (ch 1 and tr over next ch 1 lp) 35 times, tr in next tr, tr over next ch 1 lp—(4th solid group), (ch 1 and tr over next ch 1 lp) 10 times, ch 1, tr in each of next 4 trs.

Row 9: Ch 4, turn, sk the first tr of previous row, tr in each of next 3 trs, ch 2, sk ch 1 and tr of previous row, tr over next ch 1 lp, (ch 1 and tr over next ch 1 lp) 9 times, tr in each of next 3 trs, tr over next ch 1 lp (five trs in the solid group), (ch 1 and tr over the next ch 1 lp) 34 times, 5 trs for the solid group, continue across, ending with border of 4 trs.

Row 10: Ch 4, turn, sk the first tr of previous row, tr in each of next three trs, (ch 1 and tr over the next ch 1 lp) 10 times, ch 1, sk the first tr of the solid group, tr in each of next 3 trs, (ch 1 and tr over the next ch 1 lp) 34 times, ch 1, sk the first tr of the solid group, tr in each of next 3 trs, continue across, ending with border of 4 trs.

Rows 11, 13 and 15: Repeat row 3.

Rows 12 and 14: Repeat row 2.

next ch 1 lp) 28 times, end with border of 4 trs.

Row 17: Same as row 9, but having only three solid groups, instead of four.

Row 18: Same as row 10, but having only three solid groups, instead of four.

Continue in like manner for length desired. To balance the basic scarf, end scarf with seven rows of mesh and one row of solid, the same as it was started.

Leaf—Ch 15, sk the ch nearest the hook, in the next 14 chs, work 1 sc, 1 hdc, 1 dc, 8 tr, 1 dc, 1 hdc, 1 sc, ch 1, and repeat this operation on the opposite side of the ch (this completes one leaf), ch 23, sk the ch nearest the hook, sc in each of next 22 chs (this completes one stem), ch 23, and complete the second stem, ch 15, and complete a second leaf in same manner as first leaf. Join and fasten thread, leaving a sufficient length to sew the leaf firmly in place on the solid section of the basic scarf.

Flower Motif—With brown tatting cotton, work one very loose ch, and three chs of ordinary slack, (these three chs count as 1 dc), in the loose ch, work 20 dcs, and join with a sl st in top of ch 3, fasten thread, and weave the short end in.

Fasten yellow thread number 30 in any dc of the brown center, ch 6, dtr in each of next two dcs, ch 6, sl st in same dc as last dtr (this completes one petal), complete 9 more petals in the same manner, fasten off yellow thread, leaving a sufficient length to stitch flower motif loosely around the center, onto the leaf arrangement.

Arrange and sew leaves in position as shown in photograph, then place flowers over leaves and fasten down securely.

Dampen and stretch scarf evenly, pinning it to a flat surface. Allow to dry thoroughly.

Semi-Square Doily

The border of this doily is made first, then the center.* We suggest using Daisy Mercerized Cotton, size 20, and a size 8 or 9 steel crochet hook. The piece measures about 11½ inches square when completed.

Abbreviations: Ch (chain); st (stitch); sp (space); dc (double crochet); bl (block)—make 4 dc together to form a bl; tr (treble)—thread over twice, work off 2 lps at a time; p (picot); inc (increase); lp (loop).

Remember that the border is made first and then the center is worked in. Begin with the filet work.

Row 1: For the first row of the small plain point, ch 6, dc in first st to form a triangular sp, ch 5, turn.

Row 2: Dc in third st of triangular sp, ch 2, make another dc in same st (forming a triangular sp), ch 5, turn.

Row 3: Dc in last dc (for a triangular sp), ch 2, dc in dc, ch 2, dc in third ch of ch 5, ch 5, turn.

Continue as before, always chaining 5 when turning and making a triangular sp at base which adds 1 sp in each row. Make 6 rows in all for small

The Faithful Crochet Hook

There are so many things that one can do with it besides making pretty lace. Do the buttons on button-back chairs sometimes come off? The hook is just the tool for refastening them with strong twine to the inside back of the upholstery. Or when re-upholstering a chair, a crochet hook is helpful for drawing the heavy cord through the back or seat. When working with leather lacing, if the proper tools are not at hand, the crochet hook will serve: use it to draw a loop of strong thread through the hole, insert lacing thong through loop and with the thread draw thong through the leather. Use the hook also in your sewing basket—for retrieving a runaway drawstring that has slipped back into its casing; or for drawing ribbon through a heading if no bodkin is at hand.

WORLD'S MOST THRILLING HOBBY— PROFITABLE HOME BUSINESS!

Home Growers Coast to Coast Benefit from the Schirmers' Help

My Orchids are doing fine. I sell many blooms and haven't really started to try yet. I owe my success to the Schirmers.

MRS. FRANK HARWOOD—Oregon

Growing Orchids for profit lets me have my business at home. When I first saw your ad, I had never seen an Orchid.

MRS. SEABIE SMITH—Arkansas

Orchids offer rich reward in beauty. There is financial reward for one interested commercially, as I am. Thanks a million for everything.

MR. S. V. SMART—Colorado

I have standing orders for future flowers and divisions of this plant. I shall always be grateful to the Schirmers.

TROPICAL FISH BREEDERS OF AMERICA
Dept. A-2
Los Angeles 61, Calif.

I have a good proposition for men or women who would like to make an extra $125.00 a month for spare time

I won't make any fancy promises of $50.00 a day. I'm not after your money. What I can do is show you a simple plan by which you can make extra money every week in spare time.

By Frank W. Strong

I am Sales Manager for a big company making Stainless Steel Waterless Cooking Utensils. By cutting out all other middlemen, and big selling costs we can sell a set of Stainless Steel Cookware for home use for about what it costs some companies to buy it! Others have to add about 5 profits! We add only our small profit. You add yours—and sell your friends a set equal to $120.00 to $180.00 sets sold by other salesmen for only a small part of that cost! Your friends are glad to get such a bargain and they feel that you've done them a real favor! They don't even have to buy a whole set at one time, either. By my plan they can buy one piece at a time until they accumulate the whole set!

To make an extra $125.00 a month, you only have to deliver eight sets and that's easy. Mrs. Montell of Penn. took orders for $1400.00 worth her first month. Mrs. Wm. Hanchow wrote: "Got my set Saturday—already have 17 customers."

Complete Outfit—Free!

I'll not only be glad to send Free Information, I'll also send you a complete order-taking outfit that you can show to your friends and neighbors. I'll give exact instructions how to get your own 15-Piece Demonstrator Set as a bonus, and how to get orders without making any house-to-house calls. Send your name and address today to Frank W. Strong. Everything I send to you is free. There is no obligation.

ACRILAN

The new synthetic fiber, Acrilan, holds promise of wonderful things to come from the textile industry. According to its manufacturers, it is the best yet among the completely man made fibers, so far as dyeing and processing are concerned. It feels and looks like wool, is so resilient that it can stand repeated washings and is practically wrinkle-proof, needs no ironing. Pleats can be processed in and are really permanent; knitted garments retain their original shape. It will be found blended with wool, rayon, acetate, silk (to name a few), and also in 100 per cent Acrilan fabrics. This new textile miracle is made from natural gas and air.

Arrange and sew 5 remaining grapes to form a small bunch at corner of wash cloth. Sew small leaf and stem in place.

Household Hints

When the cork in your salt shaker has disappeared inside the shaker, seal the hole with a small piece of scotch tape. This is easily removed, and can be replaced when it no longer sticks.

Stubs of white candles are useful for waxing sewing thread to keep it from knotting. Pull thread along side of candle.

Tie baby's toys to his crib, chair, or play pen with bias tape or string. He can pull the toys back in himself and save mother many steps.

Keep track of loose snaps in your sewing basket by snapping them together over a strip of cheesecloth.

Egg tarnish may be removed from silver by rubbing with salt dampened with a few drops of water.

Glove Lapel Pins

Novelty lapel pins are always in demand. From scrap pieces of felt I make glove lapel pins of different colors. First I cut out two gloves. I stitch around the upper half with a contrasting colored thread. Next I stitch a design on the lower part of the glove. Then I sew on three small pearl buttons. I put one glove behind and to the side of the other and sew on a pin. In just a few minutes my cute lapel pin is finished. I charge fifty cents each.

plates for children. Under each picture I put the person's name. I buy the plates at the local dime store for around twenty cents. When plates are finished I bake them in the oven at 300 degrees for fifteen minutes; this makes the paint chip resistant and permanent. I do the plates in three colors—black, red, green; these go with any color scheme. They sell on sight for $1 each.

Mrs. Ruth Tumblison

Gay Garden Gloves

Just for fun I made a garden enthusiast friend a pair of decorated work gloves for a birthday gift. She was so delighted I made them for other friends, and then people asked me if I would make them to sell. They are fun to wear in the garden, or to give as an inexpensive remembrance. I buy the plain white cotton work gloves at our supermarket for twenty-five cents per pair. On some I applique fake fingernails cut from bright red or pink felt. Then I sew sequins and beads around one finger for a jeweled ring. Others, I decorate with small flowers cut from felt, with green leaves and embroidered stems. Small bird and animal cutouts make cute decorations, too, and the gloves are quickly finished, because little sewing is needed. I get seventy-five cents a pair for them.

With the Cooks

Molded Tomato Salad

- 2 cups tomato juice
- 2 small bay leaves
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- Dash of pepper
- 1 tablespoon plain gelatin
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
- 1 cup diced cucumber
- $\frac{1}{3}$ cup sliced stuffed olives

Simmer tomato juice with bay leaves for 15 minutes. Remove bay leaves; add seasonings and lemon juice. Add gelatin which has been softened in cold water. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to set; then add diced cucumber and olives. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce leaves and top with mayonnaise or salad dressing. Serves 6 or 7.

Miss E. Carlson
Minnesota

Cauliflower in Chipped Beef Cheese Sauce

- $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 pound head cauliflower
- 2 cups unseasoned medium white sauce
- 1 cup grated sharp cheese
- 2 ounces chipped beef

Soak cauliflower in cold salted water for 1 hour. Drain, rinse and separate flowerets. Cook uncovered in 6 cups boiling water until just tender (6 to 8 minutes). Meanwhile, make white sauce (4 tablespoons flour blended in 4 tablespoons butter, 2 cups milk stirred in and cooked over low heat until thickened). Stir cheese into white sauce until melted. Add chipped beef snipped into small pieces to white sauce. Drain cauliflower, pour sauce over and serve.

Mrs. Chester Brown
Kansas

Lenten Salad

- 2 cups shredded salmon
- $1\frac{1}{4}$ cups cubed cooked potatoes
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sweet pickle relish
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 tablespoon horseradish
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- Salt and pepper

Mayonnaise dressing

Combine salmon, celery, potatoes, relish, horseradish and onion. Season with salt and pepper. Moisten with mayonnaise and mix lightly with two forks. Serve on crisp lettuce.

GETTING Saucy WITH

MAIN DISH, VEGETABLE, DESSERT

We are still remembering how we ached from food on Christmas, New Year's Day, and from leftovers thereafter. Fortunately, the Lenten season which follows Christmas so closely is a little "leaner" along the food line. Though our thoughts about food are more conservative now, we need not let down entirely. Sauces will make something special out of a simple meal.

Do you think that making a sauce is just one extra thing to do at the last minute in meal preparation? The truth is, many of them are very simple to make even when you start from scratch.

With chocolate sauce made from a pudding mix—so quick, easy and good—you can concoct a sundae, soda or milk shake. Or spill it over an angel food cake to give an extra flourish to your dessert. Put a pitcher of it on the table and let Bobby, Jane and Sue make their own designs with the pudding.

Others are very quickly prepared by starting with a can of soup. Add less milk to any of the cream soups and suit your taste by adding herbs, seasonings, nuts or maybe raw celery to crisp the sauce a little. Now is a good time to practice on sauces. Your garden is not calling just yet, the youngsters are still in school and the spring house cleaning will wait for warmer weather. Gather your sauce pan and stirring spoon, and let us get to work.

Remember that the sauce is just an accompaniment; it should harmonize but not overpower. The flavor of the fish, meat, vegetable or dessert should be the top one and the sauce goes along. Color often adds considerable attractiveness to the sauce. In sauces using flour, brown the flour to have a rich brown color. Sweet sauces can often be colored with a little caramel. Sieve the egg yolk over a cream egg sauce so the bright yellow color really shows. Be a little adventuresome in combining foods and sauces. After all, you will never know how well hollandaise sauce accompanies fish if you serve it only with asparagus and broccoli.

Do not neglect the rules for proper cooking of the vegetables and fish themselves. A sauce on top will not make a tasty dish of a limp, soggy vegetable, or a dry, flabby fish. The biggest fault in vegetable cookery is over-cooking. Use freshly boiling water (as little as possible) for a short length of time (just until the vegetable is crisply tender). Fish cookery is just as simple: fish is cooked to develop its flavor, not to make it tender. Fish are born tender, and cooking will never make them more so. Too much cooking will only rob the fish of its juices and leave it dry and flabby. Fish takes on flavors best while it is actually cooking, so if you wish to enhance the flavor of a rather bland fish, do it while cooking. Butter, olive oil, sweet cream and sour cream are flavors that go with fish.

Cream sauce (some call it "white sauce") is usually the first kind to come to mind, probably because variations of it are served with everything—fish, meats, vegetables or desserts. To your favorite recipe make a few changes. For a meat or fish sauce use part milk and part broth, season well with salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate, add a little lemon juice and an egg yolk (for color and richness) and a pinch of nutmeg. Remember the soups as a base for speedy sauces. Thin them to your liking and add a touch of this or that—for example, prepared mustard for mustard sauce, curry powder for curry sauce. Use stock instead of milk or water and add carrot, onion, bay leaf and parsley for a mock Bechamel sauce.

Mayonnaise can be the basis for a sauce, too. Thin mayonnaise with lemon juice (or herb vinegar), add a couple of dashes of prepared mustard and heat. This is good on vegetables. An equally good sauce for fish is mayonnaise thinned with lemon juice or vinegar and a hard cooked egg diced and added with a little pickle relish.

Simplicity reigns among the dessert sauces. Start with instant pudding mix. For a smooth, creamy chocolate sauce, take a box of instant chocolate pudding, stir it into one cup of white corn syrup and add three or four tablespoons of water. Take your choice of flavor from your pantry and you can have a dressed-up dessert with a few quick swishes.

Hollandaise sauce is an old, old favorite. True, it is temperamental, but so worth the time and effort. Here are the ingredients and some of the vegetables to which the sauce is a good companion.

Here are some "saucy" recipes that will put you in a class with the best cooks of France, to whom the sauce is an exalted tradition.

Good Hollandaise

Hollandaise does require special effort if it is to compare with the French version. The trick is to use a double boiler always and keep the water below the boiling point. Add cold water from time to time when the water begins to boil. A second secret is never to let the water touch the bottom of the pan the sauce is in.

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or margarine
- 2 egg yolks
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup light cream

Melt the butter or margarine in the top of double boiler set over hot (not boiling) water. Add the salt and lemon juice to the egg yolks, mix well but do not beat. Stir this mixture into the melted butter or margarine. Beat egg mixture with a rotary beater until thickened. Add the cream and continue beating 2 minutes longer. Serves 6 to 8.

Sure Hollandaise

- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup boiling water
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch

Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler, add water and lemon juice. Beat egg yolks slightly and mix in cornstarch. Add hot butter mixture to egg mixture, stirring constantly. Pour into double boiler top and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Serves 6.

Lemon Butter

- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 4 teaspoons lemon juice
- 4 teaspoons chopped parsley
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt

Soften but do not melt butter or margarine, add parsley and salt. Add lemon juice slowly. The heat of the food will melt the butter and cause it to seep into the meat, fish or vegetable.

Potato Cream Sauce

- 1 cup medium cream sauce
- 2 teaspoons minced parsley

Add the parsley to the cream sauce, heat and serve over boiled potatoes. Serves 4.

Halibut Sauce

(This sauce can be used on any similar fish.)

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons grated onion
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups light cream
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup grated Swiss cheese
- 2 teaspoons chopped parsley
- $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon nutmeg
- Dash of cayenne pepper

Melt the butter or margarine, add the onions and sauté until golden. Add the flour and stir until smooth. Gradually add the cream, stirring constantly. Cook until mixture reaches boiling point, stirring. Reduce heat to low and cook 10 minutes. Add remaining ingredients except parsley and cook 5 minutes longer. Stir in parsley just before serving and pour over chunks of halibut or similar fish. Serves 4 to 6.

Rich Chocolate Sauce

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar
- 1/2 cup and 2 tablespoons evaporated milk
- 4 ounces chocolate, chopped fine

Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler. Add sugar and blend. Add milk and chocolate, mix well. Cook for about 30 minutes in double boiler. Makes about 1 cup sauce. Serve hot over ice cream or pudding.

Fruit Sundae Sauce

- 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ cup canned, drained pineapple chunks
- ½ cup canned, drained apricots
- 1½ tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons pineapple juice
- 2 tablespoons apricot juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Melt butter in saucepan. Add the fruit and heat thoroughly. Mix the cornstarch with the juices and add to saucepan. Stir until mixture is thick and hot. Serve over ice cream (or a pudding if you prefer).

Oil and Lemon Sauce

- 2 egg yolks
- 2 cloves garlic
- 1 to 2 cups olive oil or salad oil
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- Salt to taste

Beat egg yolks with electric mixer or rotary beater. Mince garlic cloves and add to egg yolks. Gradually add the oil until the sauce is thickened to the consistency of mayonnaise. Add lemon juice and salt. Serve over hot fish.

Lemon Hard Sauce

- 4 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
- 1 cup confectioner's sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Blend butter or margarine and sugar. Add remaining ingredients and beat to fluffiness. Chill. Serve on top of warm apple pie.

Cranberry-Cinnamon Sauce

- 1½ cups water
- 2-inch stick of cinnamon
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ⅔ cup of sugar
- 1 cup fresh cranberries

Combine water, sugar, cinnamon and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil, stir until sugar is dissolved. Simmer syrup 15 minutes. Add cranberries and cook until skins pop (about 5 minutes). Chill. Serve over freshly poached winter pears. Serves 4.

Basic Sauce

- 3 tablespoons flour
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1½ cups fish stock
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 cup light cream

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add flour and cook until slightly browned. Gradually stir in the fish stock and stir constantly until sauce is thickened. Season with salt and pepper to taste and cook 10 minutes. Add cream to egg yolks and beat well. Gradually stir the egg mixture into the butter mixture, stirring constantly until sauce is smooth. Be careful not to let the sauce boil after the egg yolks have been added. Makes 2 cups. To this basic sauce, for variation, add ½ cup of any one of the following: shrimp, lobster, clam or oysters. Such a sauce will add zest to an omelet, for instance.

Horseradish Cream Sauce

- 1 cup heavy cream
- 3 tablespoons fine, dry bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish

Whip the cream. Fold in the bread crumbs and the horseradish. Season with a dash of monosodium glutamate and salt to taste. Chill ½ hour.

I can't seem to make my aluminum plant grow. What should I do for it? Could I plant this outside? Mrs. A. P., Texas.

The aluminum plant, Pilea cadierei, belongs to the same family as the artillery plant and the South American friendship plant. They all respond to similar treatment. The aluminum plant grows well in any good well drained soil, kept moist but not overly wet. The soil used for potting ferns is ideal for this plant. Temperature requirements are 60° and up and the plant will take a normal amount of sunshine. It may be planted outside during the summer but cold nights will soon stunt the plant and in time destroy it. This means that it must be taken inside early in the fall in the temperate regions.

I have a Daphne bush and would like to start another from it. Would you tell me how to start a slip from this shrub? Mrs. L. B., California.

The simplest method to propagate Daphne is by summer layering. Pin branches to the soil in early summer and cover a small portion of the branch with a mound of soil, leaving three inches of the tip exposed. At the start of the next growing season cut off the tip back of the mound of soil, lift the plant and if it has formed roots transplant it to its new location.

Recently my prayer plant began to wilt so I took it from the soil and found five small ball-like growths by the roots. One of the balls has a white shoot coming from it. Is there a disease causing these growths? M. J. K., Michigan.

The prayer plant, Maranta, belongs to the arrow-root family and has a fleshy type of root growth. The ball-like growths are really rhizomes and do not indicate any disease. The wilting is more likely due to overwatering in a poorly drained container. The plants require high humidity and a well drained soil, regularly watered.

ROCKNOLL Dept. WB MORROW, OHIO

The first of February I brought in a pot of tulips I had buried outdoors to force the root growth. The tops were pushing through the soil, but when they got about an inch high, spreading brown spots began to appear on them, and as the leaves grew the spots grew too until the tops were all twisted. The leaves seemed to rot at the base, and they finally loosened and fell over. None of the bulbs bloomed. I tried to handle these bulbs as directed, but wonder if they were diseased. What could I have done to save them? C. O. G., Kansas.

The improper development of your tulip bulbs may be attributed to either diseased bulbs or a variety of tulips not suitable for forcing. Some varieties of tulips are just not suitable for forcing and instead of blooming go to pieces as you have described. Diseased bulbs often develop in the manner you have described. Try purchasing top quality bulbs and specify bulbs for forcing. Get such varieties as Bartigon, Golden Harvest, Her Grace, Paul Richter, Cordell Hull, and Phillip Snowden, all excellent forcing varieties. If the bulbs are from a reliable Dutch firm you are not likely to have trouble. Generally speaking, good bulbs are easy to force into bloom after the middle of February.

I have a snowball bush which I want to stay at a height of between 5 and 6 feet. I have trimmed the top twice in early spring. It produces large blooms around the sides but none on top. Tell me how to prune it so it will bloom on top also. Mrs. R. S., Oregon.

Prune a snowball bush as soon as it is through blooming, even though it is in full leaf and growing. New growths start shortly after the bush is pruned and by fall the new bloom buds will be formed. Wherever you prune a branch in the spring you remove the dormant bloom along with the wood.

Would you suggest some things that I might grow on my terrace garden 11 stories up here in New York City? The sun reaches my plants from noon until sundown. Considerable heat is thrown off by the bricks of the building, and the wind is quite strong. S. R., New York.

For perennials try Phlox subulata, Dianthus, Gypsophila repens, Iberis, Cerastium tomentosum, Arabis alpina, Daphne, Iris pumila, sedums and veronicas. For annuals try sweet alyssum, dwarf marigolds, nasturtiums, annual phlox, petunia and verberna.

Will aluminum foil wrapped around a flower pot kill the plant? I had several plants die for me, and wondered if that was the reason. M. M. F., New Jersey.

Aluminum foil wrapped around a flower pot will not kill the plant. Heavy double faced foil sometimes used by florists will prevent water from draining from the pot freely. Punch a hole in the foil covering the drainage hole in the pot and there will be no trouble with drainage. A foil covered pot does not require as much watering as a pot without a cover for foil prevents transpiration of water through the pot. This is not good for the plant but is not excessively harmful.

My strawberry barrel was whitewashed on the outside, but the white has worn off and I would like to paint it. The barrel has plants in it. Will painting the barrel hurt the plants, and is there any special kind of paint I should use? Mrs. W. F. B.

Painting the strawberry barrel will not hurt the plants. Use care, of course, not to get paint on the plants and use a paint free from any creosote fumes. Ordinary white lead and oil is entirely satisfactory.

Two Petunia Beauties Lead '56 Flower Parade

These two hybrid petunias have won the coveted distinction of being All-America Selections. Fire Dance, on the left, is the only flower to merit a 1956 All-America award. Paleface, on the right, was a bronze medal winner last year, but so little seed was available that it is ranked with the 1956 introductions. Fire Dance is a large, ruffled, bedding petunia, bright salmon-scarlet with a bold flashlight yellow throat. It is the most colorful of all the large-flowered petunias of this type, and so robust in growth that each plant may spread two feet or more. Paleface is a "multiflora," which means it blooms profusely—the mound-like plants are covered with the rather large, plain petaled white flowers. It is especially striking when combined with its red counterpart in the petunia world, the vivid Comanche, which won All-America Selection in 1953.

My African violets have not bloomed since last May, and are at a complete standstill. I repotted them recently and found that most of them had almost no roots. What could have caused this condition? Mrs. H. M., Michigan.

Something is being done wrong if African violets go out of bloom all summer.

Of course, the heat of summer and the accompanying dry air tend to slow up their growth, but cooler weather with more atmospheric moisture usually stimulates growth and blooms. First, they must have the right kind of soil, the kind used for potting ferns, or gloxinias. Then they must be watered properly. Don't have water standing at the base of the pot keeping the soil saturated with water. This causes them to lose their root systems almost entirely and is probably the cause of your trouble. Use only enough water to keep the soil moist and pour off any surplus water that drains into the saucer after watering.

Would you tell me how to care for a pineapple plant? It is two years old. A small pineapple came on it and is now dried up. Should I cut it off or let it fall off? Will it ever bear another one? Mrs. E. C. W., Connecticut.

If the leafy top of a pineapple is planted in sand, rooted and potted it is possible to produce a fruit the second year. But this goal is seldom realized from a potted plant.

J. W. JUNG SEED CO. Station 11
Randolph, Wisc.

The plants grow slowly, need plenty of warmth, light and sun and require care and considerable skill in watering. The amount of syringing and soil moisture must be kept in constant balance with the heat, sunshine and growing rate of the plant. The moisture must be gradually increased as summer progresses and decreased as the days become shorter and dull. Once a fruit is formed in the axil of the leaves that stem will not bear another fruit.

I have a large rubber plant. It is four feet high, with a short main stalk and two limbs. I would like to cut the tallest limb off and root it, as it is very crooked. Would this hurt the plant, and will the cutting take root? Mrs. L. L., Oklahoma.

Cutting a limb off the rubber tree will not hurt the plant. The branch removed may be rooted. With a sharp knife cut through the stem at a leaf node about 8 inches from the tip. Remove only the one leaf where you make the cut. Plant the cutting in soil that is mostly peat and loam. Keep it slightly moist but not wet and keep it out of drafts. Almost always such a cutting will root and grow.

Houseplant Notebook

Monstera

(Also called Cut-Leaf Philodendron)

SOIL—Two parts sand, 2 parts loam, 2 parts leaf mold or humus, ½ part dried cow manure, 1 five-inch pot bone meal to each bushel of mixture.

WATER—Water it freely and give it humid conditions. Be sure pot has good drainage.

HEAT—Prefers warmth — around 70°.

LIGHT—No sun required, but will grow in partial sun if adjusted to it gradually. North window would be ideal.

PROPAGATION—Plant stem cuttings in mixture of sand and peat or leaf mold, in a warm place. Overgrown specimens may be air layered towards top of stem and started over.

COMMENT—These are not actually Philodendrons, although they do belong to the same family (Aroids). Large plants should have a strong support.

Crown of Thorns

SOIL—One part loam, 1 part sand, 1 part leafmold, 1 part crushed bricks or mortar rubble, with ½ cup bone meal per peck of mixture.

WATER—Water lightly the year around. Keep plant a little dryer in November and December, when it should be watered only about every two weeks.

HEAT—Dryness and warmth suit this plant.

LIGHT—Full sun. A south window is ideal.

PROPAGATION—Plant stem cuttings of the new growth in soil.

COMMENT—Winter is when this plant normally blooms most freely. During summer put plant outdoors in half shade.

Shrimp Plant

(Beloperone)

SOIL—Two parts sand, 2 parts loam, 2 parts leaf mold, ½ part dried cow manure, about a five-inch potful of bone meal to each bushel of mixture. Use 6-inch pots for large specimens.

WATER—Give plenty of water, but be sure the pot is well drained.

HEAT—Enjoys a warm atmosphere.
LIGHT—Full sunlight. South window is ideal.

PROPAGATION — Stem cuttings are easily rooted in sand or soil.

COMMENT — Natural blooming time starts in late spring, continues over a long period. In summer sink pot outdoors in half shade. In fall, cut the plant back and repot it. Plants tend to become gangling with age. When this happens, start new plants from cuttings of the old one, and pinch back tops to induce branching.

"For Over 60 Years!"

Where Grass Won't Grow

If you have big trees and heavy shade, you will probably never get a healthy stand of grass in the lawn there. Greedy tree roots, lack of sun, and heavy drip when it rains make three strikes against a lawn. If you have steep slopes, pitched toward the south or west, this is probably another bare spot. Year after year the sun parches the lawn grass there, and crab grass fills the vacancy. Then when you reseed in the fall, rains wash seed and fertilizer down the slope.

Luckily, there are plants besides grass that will grow in such places. They are classed as ground covers. Some of them are trailing or vining sorts and some are low upright-growing woody or perennial plants. Some stay green all winter, and some lose their leaves or die down. Some must be in the sun, others should have the shade—some will tolerate either.

The chart lists eight of the all-around best ground cover plants, from the standpoint of being hardy and

Some Good Ground Covers

	Type of Plant	Flower	Hardiness	Sun or Shade	Remarks	Propagate
Goutweed (Aegopodium podagraria)	perennial	white, spring	north to Canada, west to great plains	sun or shade	variegated leaf, good for edging	root divisions
Bugleweed (Ajuga)	creeping perennial	blue, spring	throughout U. S.	sun or shade	spreads fast	divisions
Moneywort, Creeping Charlie (Lysimachia)	creeping perennial	yellow, summer	hardy except northern-most states	shade	sometimes a pest	cuttings in soil or water
Japanese spurge (Pachysandra terminalis)	evergreen	white, spring	hardy except northern-most states, west to Kansas	filtered sun or shade	will grow under pines	root divisions, cuttings
Myrtle (Vinca minor)	trailing evergreen	blue or white, spring	hardy except northern-most states, west to great plains	filtered sun or shade	popular	cuttings or divisions
English or Baltic Ivy (Hedera helix or baltica)	vining evergreen		hardy in New England, Michigan, west to Nebraska if planted on north of buildings	shade		stem cuttings
Winter Creeper (Euonymus fortunei)	trailing woody evergreen		hardy in north and west if protected	part sun or shade	clip back if bushiness is desired	cuttings or rooted runners
Memorial Rose (Rosa wichuriana)	trailing, woody half-evergreen	white, spring	hardy except northern-most states	sun	for broad slopes or banks	layering, division reliable, attractive and self-contained. Even though you needn't mow a ground cover, don't think your work is over when you plant one. Most kinds benefit from being mulched with peat or leafmold occasionally, fertilized, and kept clean of weeds, volunteer trees, sticks and debris. Attention twice a year is the minimum if you wish to keep the area looking presentable. You will find in these "trouble spots", that maintaining a ground cover is far less work and expense than trying to keep grass there. And the result will be better.

GARDEN HOW-TO

How to Measure a Peck

Usually the recipe for a potting mixture assumes you are making it in one peck amounts. To speed up potting work and insure accuracy, you should have a peck mixing box.

Make it with an inside measure of 10 inches by 10 inches by 7 inches high. Mark or score the inside $5\frac{3}{8}$ inches up from the bottom. When the mixture fills the box to this mark, it will measure one peck. (The extra height is so you can stir without spilling.)

One peck of a potting mixture is enough to fill:

- 4 6-inch pots
- 7 5-inch pots
- almost 13 4-inch pots
- 32 3-inch pots
- 48 $2\frac{1}{2}$ -inch pots

One peck = $\frac{1}{4}$ of a bushel = 8 quarts = 16 pints = 32 cups.

If you use a 1-pound coffee can to measure, it takes 5 heaped-up cans full plus about $\frac{1}{2}$ can over, to make a peck.

Violet

Violet

The shy violet, whose sweet flowers venture out so early in the spring, is beloved by young and old. It is an appropriate addition to our design collection of favorite flowers. It may be embroidered, hand painted, appliqued, worked in needlepoint, or traced on paper for children to color. Quilt, bedspread, luncheon cloth motif, head scarf decoration, or embroidery or needlepoint picture are some of the possible uses for these designs.

For a quilt, we suggest working designs on 8 by 9 inch white blocks, alternating them in the quilt with plain white or pastel blocks of the same size. Depending on the size of finished quilt, you will probably need three or four blocks of each flower. For hand painting, trace flower lightly on material, outline in textile paint using pointed water color brush or ball point textile pen. Dry brush technique will give a fine shaded effect. To dry brush, dip tip of brush in paint and brush across a blotter or cloth until excess is removed, then apply paint to design by brushing away from the edge or portion which should be darker.

To embroider, use outline stitch for all lines except the centers of flowers, which should be a French knot. To applique, trace each flower on material, work details in embroidery, then cut out around outline and applique in place. Leaves should be done in the same way, and appliqued on first where a flower comes over it. For needlepoint, transfer the design to needlepoint canvas and follow all lines as closely as possible with needlepoint stitches.

Make leaves a rich green, a shade lighter on the under sides that show, stems and calyxes green with a thread of yellow, flowers lavender shading darker toward the center, centers yellow.

by Albert Dorne

Famous Illustrator

If you like to draw — America's 12 Most Famous Artists are looking for you. We want you to test your art talent!

Too many people miss a wonderful career in art — simply because they don't think they have talent. But my colleagues (such famous artists as Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Stevan Dohanos) and I have helped thousands of people get started. Like these —

Three years ago Don Smith knew nothing about art—even doubted he had talent. Today, he is an illustrator with a leading advertising agency in New Orleans.

Harriet Kuzniewski was bored with an "ordinary" job when she sent for our talent test. Encouraged by us—she started to study art. Soon she landed a job as a fashion artist. A year later, she became assistant art director.

A great-grandmother in Ohio decided to study painting in her spare time. Recently, she had her first "show"—where she sold 32 water colors and five oil paintings.

How about you? Wouldn't you like to find out if you have the talent worth developing?

Mail coupon below for our 8-page talent test. Thousands of people formerly paid $1 for this test. But now it is yours free—if you sincerely like to draw. No obligation. But mail coupon now . . . while it's on your mind.

Try Terrycloth for Bathroom Curtains

Ethel Day

True it's a terrycloth age and now the latest thing is terrycloth curtains in the bathroom! Try them and you'll agree they're perfect—no ironing! From the damp dry they go right onto the rods. They're fluffy and colorful and best of all they make your bathroom ensemble complete and perfectly matched. Flowered, striped or plain, you'll prize your safe bathroom curtains. Here's how to make them in an easy-does-it way.

1. To make scalloped top on cafe curtains place material on table right side up. Fold top of material down (print side to print side) so that, with rings at top, curtain will be the right length. If material is of proper length to start, fold will be 3 or 4 inches. Fold serves as a facing. Mark depth of scallops desired on the edge of a sauce dish and then draw a row of scallops across the folded facing with a soft pencil. If dish of the right size is used the scallops will come out even. Check across width of material before you start drawing. Points between circles come within 1/16 inch of folded edge.

2. Stitch along pencil lines after checking and adjusting machine for a good stitch on a scrap of the same material. Be sure to stop machine at each point with the needle in goods. Raise the foot and make a sharp turn into next scallop. Lower foot and stitch next curve. Goods are tacked with pins for stitching.

3. Cut out the scallops leaving $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch seam allowance beyond stitching. Then snip seam allowance through both thicknesses almost to stitching about every inch as in photograph. This permits flat folding of the scallops. Otherwise the scallops will pucker and draw. Now turn the facing inside out and work out the scallops just as you would work on a stiff, new glove finger. Crease the stitched edges flat at seam. Press with a hot iron if need be. Cafe curtains of terrycloth toweling do not need pressing nor future ironing when washed.

A handy, waterproof container for powdered soap can be made from a small-mouth canning jar and an empty salt box. Cut a circle the size of jar top around the spout in the top of the salt box. Fill jar with soap powder, insert circle where the jar lid would go and screw down the ring. It makes a soap-saving dispenser.

Strips of newspapers soaked in water are as good as sweeping compound when you are sweeping a dusty garage or basement floor.

Try Terrycloth

4. Sew a washable plastic ring at top of each scallop, sewing over and over and then around and around as when sewing a button with strong (No. 40) thread of the right color. Fasten all thread ends securely before cutting. Rings are available at notion counters in various sizes.

The finished curtains.

Corners clipped from envelopes are good for mounting pictures in a photo album or scrap book.

Stenciling A Tray

Dorothy S. Garland

Many of you, I am sure, have admired beautifully stenciled trays and Hitchcock chairs, done in the manner of the old-time decorators, but you may have felt that this was too difficult an undertaking for anyone not having real artistic ability. But you need not be an artist; in fact, it may be better if you are not, as this is mostly copy work and little originality is required. The only requirements are knowing how to handle the needed tools and materials and a large amount of patience. The decorative process cannot be speeded up, nor short-cuts taken without your having to pay the price of doing your work over again. However, the hard work is more than offset by the delight in creating something lasting and beautiful which you will be proud to show to your family and friends, and after you have had more experience in doing the work, may be able to sell to gift shops, church bazaars, etc.

Let us begin by stenciling a tole tray with flowers or fruits in gold and silver. If you do not have an old tray on hand you can buy one in a variety or hardware store. Blank reproductions of antique trays are sold in the larger art supply stores and may be ordered by mail. The art stores also have a "bonderized" tray which has been given a ground coat and two coats of flat black paint, and is all ready for decorating. These trays cost a little more but are well worth their price considering the time and effort saved.

The completed tray.

Preparation of Tray

If tray is new and shiny, scrub it thoroughly with soap and water. Dry carefully and give it a coat of red sanding primer which contains a rust resistant and is adhesive. This paint has a sandy texture and must be put on with a care so that it will not leave hard ridges. Some people use a thin coat of shellac as a rust resistant, but if sanding primer is used your tray will be protected from rust for a lifetime. After your sanding primer (or shellac) is thoroughly dry, apply two coats of good quality flat black paint, at least twenty-four hours apart or longer if necessary.

Before we proceed with the decorating of this particular tray, let us assume that you have on hand an old tray in poor condition, showing rust spots, which you want to use. First of all, every bit of the old paint must be removed. Try to find a paint remover which does not contain benzol, for this is a dangerous and poisonous ingredient and if too much is inhaled it can cause serious injury and even death. If you do use a remover containing benzol follow carefully the directions on the label. I have used a non-toxic product of a spray-on type and have found it easy to use and very effective. After using paint remover you will need to sand the tray and rub it with fine steel wool until it is continue to spread underneath and eventually ruin the tray. The remover is applied with a cloth or old brush and allowed to stand for ten minutes. After rust is dissolved, wipe off the residue with a clean cloth, then rub with steel wool and allow to dry thoroughly before painting.

I would advise beginners, before painting or stenciling a pattern on a tray, to make a practice pattern on cardboard. Using a piece of fairly heavy cardboard, give it two coats of flat black paint, twenty-four hours apart, and proceed to stencil or paint just as though you were working on the tray itself. This will provide good practice and experience.

Preparation of Stencils

While the tray is drying, the stencils may be prepared. Stencils are of two varieties—separate (the whole pattern done with one stencil in one operation), or several stencils used in sequence to form, for example, a bowl of fruit. These patterns may be purchased in art supply stores separately or in booklet form, and many magazines offer inexpensive patterns.

In tracing stencils we use what is called "architect's tracing linen" which may be purchased in art and stationery stores. The pattern should be laid on a flat, smooth surface, and a sheet of linen spread over it, held in place with thumbtacks or scotch masking tape. With a fine drawing pen and India ink, the design should be traced very carefully onto the linen, leaving at least a one-inch margin. For a beginner, I recommend the use of a regular stencil knife with a number 11 blade. In cutting the stencil, place it on a large, thick magazine. Some prefer to use a sheet of glass for this purpose, but if a magazine is used you will work more slowly and are therefore less likely to make slips and spoil the stencil. In cutting curved surfaces the left hand should be used to turn the paper, allowing for more of a free-hand movement in cutting. If a slip is made it is easy to cover it with scotch tape (on both sides) and re-cut right through the tape. When finished the stencil should be held against a black background to reveal the need of any trimming here and there.

The secret of stenciling is that instead of putting wet paint on a dry surface, dry powders are applied to a slightly wet or tacky surface. After the tray has been given the primer coat and two coats of flat black paint, it should be given a coat of varnish and allowed to dry for two or three hours. Only practice will tell when the surface is just right for stenciling. When the stencil is placed on the slightly tacky varnish it should come away clean, without sticking. Pressure of a finger against it will make a slight "click" when taken away. A surface that is too wet will take too much powder and give a fuzzy impression, while one that is too dry will not take enough powder to give the desired brilliance.

Handling the Bronze Powders

The best way to handle bronze powders is to use a strip of velour, hemmed on all sides (or trimmed with bias tape) to avoid lint, and on it place a small amount of each shade of powder to be used. The shades used most frequently are aluminum, pale gold, and rich gold, and occasionally fire red to touch up flowers and fruit. These fine powders spread easily with the slightest current of air and should not be poured out when the varnished tray is nearby.

Stenciling

A piece of silk velvet, hemmed on all four sides, is used to transfer the powder from the velour to the varnished tray. When the tray is ready for stenciling (and it will depend upon the type of varnish used, and weather conditions) the first stencil is laid in place. The pattern usually indicates the order in which the stencils are to be laid. Wrapping the index finger in a piece of velvet, it is dipped into the powder, the surplus tapped off onto newspaper, and then applied to the varnished surface through the stencil. The powder should not be patted onto the varnish, but lightly rubbed to achieve a polished effect. The mistake made by most beginners is in using too much powder, in which case it may creep under the stencil, giving a fuzzy edge. Working from the edge, the powder should be applied toward the center. Only the small units in the stencil are completely covered with the powder; the larger areas are shaded. If the beginner will study pictures of designs and completed trays he will see how some parts of a pattern are highlighted in some sections and fade away as a section is meant to appear in the shadow. Some of the old time stencils were done flat, but shading is important as it gives an effect of perspective and makes one piece of a design seem to be behind the other. When you are stenciling only the border of the tray it is well to cut a piece of wax paper the size of the floor of the tray and use it to protect the background from the bronze powders.

Beginners are sometimes concerned that the varnish will become too dry while they are stenciling so that the pattern cannot be completed that day. However, in such case there is no harm done; simply quit the work and allow the varnish to dry its full twenty-four hours before starting again. When ready to resume the work, another coat of varnish is applied over the entire tray and the work carried on as before. After the pattern is completed and thoroughly dry, a piece of lintless cloth is dipped in cold water and wiped over the entire design to pick up any loose powder. Any fluffs or errors in the background may be removed or wiped out with a little flat black paint on a small brush.

Overpainting

Many of the old time stencils were done with only bronze powders, in gold or silver. Today these powders can be obtained in a variety of shades: copper, brass, aluminum, fire red, blue and green. If additional touches of color are desired transparent oils (in tubes) may be used. This process is called overpainting or glazing. Using a mixture of two parts varnish to one part turpentine, as a painting medium, alizarin crimson, and Indian yellow may be used to color fruits and flowers; viridian green for leaves; and raw umber or burnt sienna for stems, trees, etc. These colors may be applied with a script brush (Number 5 or 8) when the undercoat of varnish and bronze powders is thoroughly dry. Thinly applied so that the bronze powder design shows through, if some of this glaze gets onto the black background of the tray it will hardly be noticeable.

Striping

Around the border and floor of the tray a stripe is laid in old yellow, made by mixing chrome yellow (medium), burnt umber, and varnish. No turpentine is ever used in striping. A special striping brush (without a handle) called a "quill striper" is used for this work. Its long hairs, up to two inches in length, hold a great deal of paint, it is well to practice on cardboard for experience before attempting to stripe a tray.

On the floor of the tray, the stripe is usually laid about ½ inch in from the edge. A line drawn with a white or silver pencil will act as a guide. It is easier to stripe on the left-hand side of the tray, turning it around clockwise as the work progresses.

Varnishing

The final step is the varnishing process. This will protect the work and give it a nice satin finish. No matter what type of early American decoration you choose, whether it be stenciling, country tin, or gold leaf, it will need several coats of varnish to protect the design and give a fine finish.

GENERAL LEATHERCRAFT

Raymond Cherry

(144 pages; illustrated; McKnight & McKnight, Bloomington, Illinois; paperbound, $1.50)

In recent years, making things from leather has become one of the most popular crafts in America. Many veterans in hospitals have received leathercraft instruction and have helped popularize the craft. But it is the sort of craft by no means limited to men. Because of the craft's nature women make just as good, if not better, leathercrafters than men. If you'd like to try your hand at it, Raymond Cherry's "General Leathercraft" is an ideal instruction book, already thoroughly tested by the public. Its three previous editions have sold more than a half million copies. This new fourth edition is completely revised, with new illustrations (more than 365 photographs and drawings) and with an entire new set of projects.

Mr. Cherry tells you what tools and supplies you will need and includes some excellent tips on the purchase of leather. He instructs you in detail in the basic leathercraft operations—laying out and cutting leather, preparing it for tooling and carving, tooling and modeling, stamping and carving, finishing edges, forming and folding heavy leather, lacing and sewing, attaching fasteners and cementing, the application of finishes and the care of completed leather articles.

Specific instructions are given for the making of thirty-one different leather objects. You can start with such simple things as bookmarks and luggage tags and as your skill increases, go on to the making of a leather bound electric clock, carved brief case, lamp, waste basket, scuffies and hand-sewed purse. Nearly thirty pages of designs suitable for use on various leather objects are included.

SERVE AT ONCE—THE SOUFFLE COOKBOOK

Myra Waldo
(249 pages; Thomas Y. Crowell Co.,
New York; $3.50)

Myra Waldo begins this cookbook by challenging the accuracy of the widely held belief that the preparation of a successful soufflé is beyond the abilities of most cooks. She grants that making a soufflé does call for a certain amount of skill but asserts that "it can be mastered by anyone who can cook even simple dishes." The critical points in making a soufflé, Mrs. Waldo says, are the preparation of the egg whites and combining them with the soufflé mixture. So, in an opening chapter dealing with the fundamentals of soufflé making she covers both of those points in explicit detail.

Once the fundamentals are set forth—fundamentals applicable to all types of soufflés, Mrs. Waldo goes on to present some 200 specific soufflé recipes. First come appetizer and fish soufflés. Then in succession she offers recipes for cheese, poultry, meat, vegetable, dessert, low calorie, cold and pudding soufflés. Since some soufflés taste better with the addition of a sauce, Mrs. Waldo includes recipes for some twenty different sauces, as well as a glossary of cooking terms and tables of measures and equivalents.

I cannot stress too highly the importance of using a high type of varnish and the finest brush reserved solely for this purpose. A sweater or woolen dress should not be worn when varnishing as tiny specks of lint will get onto the surface of the tray. A tray which has a smooth, satiny finish, free from imperfections, has the best market value. Be sure the flat black is thoroughly dry before rubbing down with steel wool for if the slightest tackiness remains, small particles will stick to it, causing lumps in the finish. Just before varnishing it is well to use a "tack cloth" made by taking a piece of cheese cloth a foot wide and a yard long and sprinkling it with a tablespoonful each of varnish and turpentine, squeezing it all together until the cloth is well saturated. This is kept in a glass jar, tightly covered. If it is wiped lightly over the tray between coats of varnish, or before coloring, it will pick up dust and lint.

Varnishing should not be attempted on a dull, damp day; the proper temperature is about 70 degrees. Varnishing should not be done in a room which has been recently dusted. The varnish brush should not be rubbed on the sides of the can as this will cause small lumps to appear on the tray surface. When the brush is not in use it should be kept suspended in a jar of turpentine. When putting away cans of varnish or flat black paint, step on the cans to insure their being tightly closed.

A little raw or burnt umber in each successive coat will give the work an aged tone, but beware of using too much and getting a "dirty" effect. Some feel that six coats of varnish are not too many for a tray. I usually apply two coats of varnish, twenty-four hours apart, then rub down lightly with dry pumice and water, then apply two or three more coats, rubbing lightly between coats with fine steel wool. After the final coat has been allowed to harden for several days it is rubbed down with dry pumice and crude oil for a smooth, satiny finish.

BROKEN STAR QUILT

This beautiful Broken Star Quilt has been a favorite for many years! Rainbow colors in color-fast percale: apple green, lime, buttercup, pink, light rose, ruby, rose, lilac, lavender, sea-spray blue. Size (white blocks, border added) about 90" square. Over 1100 pieces all pre-cut in the needed colors, directions, quilting patterns. NOW ONLY $5.87 PPD. Order by number 2W43.

Modern Handcraft, Inc., Dept. 844
543 Westport Road Kansas City 11, Missouri

Household Hints

Add two or three teaspoons vinegar to the water for tougher cuts of boiling meat. It helps to tenderize them.

Slice bananas and add to egg whites and beat until stiff, for a delectable substitute for whipped cream.

When gravy or soup is too salty, put in a few pieces of toasted bread for two or three minutes. The bread will absorb much of the salt.

In the Future

These adorable "bunny bootees" are a perfect shower or baby gift, easily made in crochet. Pink ears, fluffy pom-pom tails, and embroidered pink and blue faces make them irresistible. The round rug is worked in crochet by a simple and speedy method—a good project for beginning crocheters. Use rug yarn in your choice of colors, seven skeins to a 24-inch rug. The old favorite daisy chain is the theme for the clever beaded design. It forms a tight strip one-half inch wide, suitable for a necklace, pocket, purse or wallet trim, or any other place where ever-popular beading might be used. For a classic crocheted centerpiece, full of prize-winning potentialities, the forget-me-not doily is a likely design. Worked with number 30 thread and a number 12 steel hook, it will measure about 25 inches in diameter.

MY FREE CATALOG
SOLVES BIG PROBLEM
FOR HOUSEWIVES!

Hi there! I'm Martha Schiller. As one busy housewife to another, I know this will interest you.

I was looking for a practical and inexpensive way to keep my new furniture clean. But I didn't want unsightly, baggy-looking covers, or something that hid the beauty of my furniture. Then I learned about transparent Firestone Velon—a soft, durable, water-proof plastic material. Dust, dirt, liquids, mud and grease wiped right off—clean; and it took hard wear, too. I used Velon to make a set of covers, they did a marvelous job of keeping my furniture spotless. And you could clearly see the upholstery detail and colors. Others asked me to make covers for them; today my plastic covers are in millions of homes.

If keeping furniture clean is your problem too, my free catalog can give you the happy solution. With the world's largest selection of over 150 "Shaped-To-Fit" styles and sizes to choose from—I know I can give you a neat custom-like fit for your furniture. They're easy to order—and I'm sure you'll be pleased to find my prices as low as $3.95 for chair covers.

For your furniture's sake, send for my Free Catalog. I'll also include a free Velon sample. You're under no obligation. Do write today.

Ivy Holder

Use small pieces of felt in any desired colors to make the holder, use green felt for ivy leaves.

Make pattern for bottom of holder first. Draw a circle 5 inches in diameter. Fold in half, the straight edge is the back and curved edge the front. Now make pattern for back by drawing a rectangle 5 inches by 3 inches. The pattern for front rectangle measures $7\frac{3}{4}$ inches by 3 inches. Cut felt pieces the same size as cardboard pieces. Sew along edge of front section to curved edge of bottom (through cardboard and felt), sew back section to straight edge of bottom, sew front and back side edges together. Cut two strips of contrasting felt, each one inch wide, the length across the back and front pieces. Glue these strips to inside at top and overcast to front and back.

Crochet three chains, each about 16 inches long, using a heavy cotton crochet thread, for hangers. Single crochet over bone or wire with same thread. Fold chains in half and join to ring with loop knots. Tack the middle double chain to top of center back, tack again on outside 1½ inches below, then make a hole and pull through to inside. Join one end of the two remaining chains to back at corners in same manner, hang on a hook, balance, and tack the two free ends of chains to inside of front.

Three different size leaves are given. Cut all leaves double, glue two together, inserting a length (varying lengths from 5 to 8 inches) of floral wire through the center. Work veins in leaves with light green embroidery floss, catching around the end of floral wire, holding it secure. Make as many leaves as desired. Place a piece of floral or modeling clay in bottom of container to hold ivy stems, and arrange in desired manner. Put crumpled short lengths of black or dark color

The Versatility of Burlap

The fashion colors of burlap and the rough, homespun texture has made it one of the most popular novelty fabrics of the day. The bright-hued burlap sells from 89c a yard up, according to width and amount purchased. It comes in many beautiful colors and may be purchased direct from mail-order companies or department stores. Most colored burlap is reversible, therefore wears well.

Imported burlap in its natural color is available in several widths, 40 inches up to 96 inches and ranges in price from 49c to $1.49. This is often used as backing for hooked rugs but its other uses are unlimited. It is ideal to cover screens—block print, stencil or paint free hand any desirable designs on burlap.

However, the homemaker who has access to burlap feed bags can get the burlap free. Hundreds of feed manufacturers are using the print-free burlap bags now. Each bag contains more than a yard of burlap and may be dyed

Those of you having birthdays close to February 12 might like to use an Abraham Lincoln theme. It really isn't very hard to make a log cabin centerpiece for the table. Just use a box (not too big) and cover it with brown paper. Cut peaks as shown on the end pieces. These peaks will hold up the roof. Be sure you do a neat pasting job. When the paste is dry, mark logs with a dark brown or black crayon. On one side cut one small window and a door. Just think of having only one window in your house! Fold a sheet of brown paper through the middle and rest it on the peaks. Use cellophane tape to keep it in place. That was easy, wasn't it? If you like, set it in a nest of Easter grass to look like grass.

LOG CABIN

Place Card

These little place cards will take very little time to make and they will serve as favors, too. Fold a piece of construction paper in half so it will stand, as shown. About three by four inches is a nice size. Now with cellophane tape, secure a bright penny to the upper left hand corner. Remember that Lincoln's head should be the side that is showing. Letter guests' names on the cards with crayon. Each one will have a very special take-home favor.

Even if you aren't having a party, I'm sure you and your friends will enjoy this lively game. Ask for two volunteers, or choose two people. Blindfold each one and give each a small bowl of popcorn and a spoon. At the word "go", they are to start feeding one another the popcorn. Maybe I ought to say they are to try feeding it to each other, for it isn't easy to find a mouth you can't see, and especially if you are both laughing. Do this until all have had a turn. It will be good for a lot of laughs.

into gay and useful accessories for the home and wardrobe. After the bag is ripped apart, stitch raw edges to prevent raveling, then wash and dye the burlap, using any good commercial dye.

Combine burlap with rope or cord, wicker or reed bottoms to make very different and unusual purse and bag sets. For place mats, use rick rack, braid or tape to decorate for individuality. Monograms or initials in tape or stenciled on burlap are quite attractive in contrasting colors.

Use it for draperies, slip covers and pillow tops in colors to harmonize with your color scheme. It makes a perfect wall covering, or covering for lamps, bulletin boards, etc. Burlap skirts, jumpers and boleros will make a big hit with the younger set.

Stubborn zippers may be eased by closing, then running a lead pencil up and down the ridges. The graphite acts as a lubricant.
